IF "SOME of the morning journals," in stating the case of Anna Fitzpatrick, had been as "ungenerous" as the Commercial silleges, they would have approached the mendacity of that journal, in its assault upon them. In asserting that its contemporaries were actuated by a "malicious desire to injure a worthy gentleman, whose only fault was his connection with a religious institution whose faith differs from that which they have espoused," it gave currency to an unprovoked and intentional calumny; it struck at the personal character of gentlemen of its own profession, in a vile and indecent manner; and under circumstances which furnish no apology or excuse.

THE news from Italy is very exciting this morning. Garibaldi is thundering at the gates of Rome with a victorious army fresh from Monte Rotundo, where they achieved a brilliant triumph. The Pope, for greater security, has abandoned the Vatican and taken refuge in the Castle of St. Angelo. Victor Emanuel has spoken in a royal proclamation, denouncing Garibaldi and endorsing the policy of France regarding the situation. At Tulon, where French naval forces are stationed, great activity prevails, and fleets were about departing for the scene of action. In an encyclical letter, addressed to the Prelates of Europe, the Pope acquaints them with his fears of the success of the insurgents, and consequent destruction of his temporal power. We do not see how aid can reach Rome in time to be of service to the Papal troops, as the impetuous Garibaldi, with his enthusiastic followers, will push forward into the Eternal city before anything can transpire to check their onward march.

CONTRADICTORY news is the fashion now, that is when there is any news at all. The latest item of contradiction was that received yesterday, concerning the new British Minister. In the same day we hear that Mr. Thornton, C. B., has most positively been appointed as successor to the late Sir Frederick Bruce; and, in another place, that it has been decided to appoint no one for a few weeks yet. Of course, we don't believe both, but then it is so pleasant not to be forced to choose for one's self. A bulletin of lies, such as a Bavarian journal publishes, would be a good thing in this country, and Washington would be an excellent place for it to have its headquarters.

A MATTER of much importance to dentists was decided yesterday in the United States Circuit Court in session at New York. The dentists throughout the country have been infringing on the Goodyear Rubber Company's patent, by using, without permission, hard rubber for dental purposes.

THE Republicans of the city have returned to the delegate method of nominating municipal officers, discarding the Crawford county system after brief experience in its workings.

Salem Witchcraft.

Charles P. Upham, of Mass., has written a history of the witchcraft delusion. It occupies two octavo volumes, of over one thousand pages each, and is illustrated by maps, photographs, autograph or wood cuts of houses connected with the tragic events of which the beginning is thus described:

"In the winter of 1691-2 a circle of young girls met frequently at Mr. Parris' house, ostensibly to practice psalm singing, but their principal occupation was fortune telling and the various arts of necromancy, magic and ventriloquism, in which they had instruction of two negro or Indian servants, whom Mr. Parris brought with him from the Spanish West India Islands, where he was engaged in trade. One of these girls was a daughter of Mr. Parris, nine years of age. Another was Ann Putnam, twelve years of age. The ages of the other girls ranged from eleven to eighteen years. They crept into holes and under benches, threw themselves on the floor, went into spasms, and uttered strange outcries. These proceedings were probably commenced in sport; but as the girls became adepts they began to attract the attention of the neighbors, and gave exhibitions of their new accomplishments. From day to day they learned new tricks. The village doctor was called in, who, with Mr. Parris, concluded that the girls were 'under an evil hand.' The community was excited, and flocked to see their strange actions. Witch books were in Mr. Parris' house, and the girls probably learned how witches in England behaved. The girls were now questioned as to who had bewitched them. They named Sarah Good, a poor wretched outcast, and Pituba, one of the Indian servants. Whether they named these persons under instructions cannot be ascertained. The time was not yet come for striking at higher game. The local magistrates inquired into the matter, and held a public examination of the two persons accused. In all these trials the guilt of the accused was assumed, and these simple people were plied with such questions as these by the magistrates: 'Sarah Good, why do you hurt these children?' 'I do not hurt them; I scorn it.' 'Whom do you employ, then, to do it?' 'I employ no one.' The children then go into convulsions. 'Sarah Good, do you see what you have done? Why do you not tell us the truth?' 'I do not torment them.' 'How came they thus tormented?' 'What do I know.' After many inquiries of this kind the wretched woman finds that her only refuge is in accusing some one else; then she says that Sarah Osburn has bewitched her. The girls also remember that Sarah Osburn had bewitched them. Osburn was arrested and brought in. She was asked: 'What evil spirit have you familiarity with?' 'None.' 'Have you made no contract with the devil?' 'No; I never saw the devil in my life.' The 'afflicted children' look upon her and go into convulsions. 'Why do you hurt these children?' 'I do not hurt them.' 'Whom do you employ, then?' 'I employ nobody. I do not know that the devil goes about in my likeness to do any hurt.'

Sarah Osburn was committed and Tituba was brought in. The same questions were asked and the same scene enacted. 'Who is it that hurts these children?' 'The devil, for aught I know.' 'Did you ever see the devil?' 'The devil came to me and bid me serve him.' 'Whom have you seen?' 'Four women sometimes hurt these children.' 'Goody Osburn and Sarah Good; I do not know who the others were.' She then confessed she tormented the children, and made some strange revelations. The devil, she said, appeared in black clothes sometimes, and sometimes in a surge coat of another color. She was asked how she went to witch meetings, and replied, 'We ride upon sticks, Good and Osburn behind me.' 'Do you go through the trees or over them?' 'We see nothing, but are there presently.' This woman was the servant of Mr. Parris, and the instructor of the 'afflicted children' in their hellish arts. John Indian, the other servant, appeared as an accuser in a later stage of the proceedings.

"The delusion was now under full headway. The next victim was the wife of Giles Covey, a devout matron eighty years of age, who spent most of her time in prayer. Her examination was a scene for the pencil of an artist. The usual questions were put to her. She denied the allegations, and asking leave to go to prayer, knelt in the presence of the court and offered up a fervent supplication. When she had concluded the magistrate said: "We did not send for you to go to prayer; but tell me why you hurt these?' 'I am an honest person. I never had to do with witchcraft since I was born. I am a gospel woman.' The girls go into fits, and declare that Goody Covey is pinching them, and are not restored till they touch the person of the accused. These proceedings were enacted at every trial. The pious woman regarded the whole thing as a delusion, and to the question, 'Do you not see these children complain of you?' replied; 'The Lord open the eyes of the magistrates and the ministers.' She was hung September 22, 1692."

PARIS, October 27.—The Moniteur of to-day says that the fleet at Toulon had been kept back at the request of the King of Italy, but it has now sailed for the Italian coast, because no Cabinet has been formed at Florence, and because Garibaldi is menacing the city of Rome. The action of France is declared not aggressive. Both Italy and France are interested in the preservation of order and the vindication of the law. The Moniteur hopes that the entente cordiale between the two nations will not be disturbed.

NEW YORK, October 29, 1867.—The Herald's Richmond special says: General Schofield has replied to the protest of Mr. Gilmer, to the effect that he will be court martialed when Mr. Gilmer furnishes the specification to the charges already presented. The question of the legality of the election will be referred to the Convention. It is rumored the solution of General Schofield's action in the late election is to be found in fact that he is candidate for United States Senator from Virginia.

Several more citizens have been ordered to leave Richmond by the Negroes' Vigilance Committee, for speaking disrespectfully of Hunnicutt and his party. Armed negroes have been kept on guard in front of his office by Hunnicutt, who prevent any one from passing on the sidewalk.

Hunnicutt addressed a large crowd of negroes in the Capitol enclosure this evening. He alluded to certain threats to kill him, and said: "I will not leave. Don't you know, my fellow-citizens, that when the assassin's bullet pierces my brain, or his dagger touches my heart, more than one white man will fall upon that day?" The assemblage responded "yes," "yes."

ROME, October 26—Saturday Evening.—Yesterday a band of Garibaldians, who had just crossed the frontier, attacked Bagnorea and were repulsed by the garrison. Garibaldi is still before Monto Rotundo, with four to five thousand men. The place is defended by two companies of Antibes' legion and about one hundred Papal troops under General Darmes, who have resisted the assaults.

One thousand soldiers left here to-day to reinforce the garrison.

PARTICULARS OF THE BATTLE AT MONTE ROTUNDO.

FLORENCE, October 28.—Particulars are received of the engagement at Monte Rotundo. They represent the fighting as obstinate on both sides. At one time during the day, when reinforcements for the Papal troops arrived upon the field, the issue appeared doubtful; but at the end of the conflict General Garibaldi, who led his brave volunteers in person, was completely successful. He immediately followed up his victory, and the defeated soldiers of the Pope, who fell back on Rome, were vigorously pursued.

At latest accounts from the South, Garibaldi, with all his army, estimated at ten to twelve thousand, had advanced to the outer fortifications of Rome.

THE PROCLAMATION OF VICTOR EMANUEL.

FLORENCE, October 28—Noon—The following is the substance of the royal proclamation issued yesterday: The King commences by saying the country is in great danger. He declares that a war against France and her probable allies would be impossible. He denounces the Garibadians for usurping the right to make war, which is the prerogative of the King. He says the nations of Europe must know that he is no disturber of public order and the flag raised against the head of the Catholic Church is not this. He commands the insurgents to return to their allegiance and exhorts the people to sustain their King and preserve the national honor, and concludes by promising that when tranquility is restored, Italy, with France, will settle the Roman question.

POLITICAL.

A Gun for Grant—The Second Ward First in the Field—The Action of the County Executive Committee Endorsed—A Grant Club Organized—Col. Wm. Phillips Put Forward for Congress by his Friends.

The Republicans of the Second ward appear to take the lead in political movements, and are always found organized and ready for duty at the ballot box. Last evening a large and enthusiastic meeting of the citizens was held at the rooms of the Republican club, No. 66 Smithfield street, for the purpose of organizing a Grant Club. Mr. Thomas Steel was called on to preside, and T. P. Houston was designated as Secretary. The Chairman briefly stated the object of the meeting, after which the following resolution was offered by the Secretary and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we, the Republicans of the Second ward, in public meeting assembled, heartily endorse the action of the County Union Executive Committee in urging the nomination of General U. S. Grant as the standard bearer of the party in the approaching Presidential election; and that we proceed to organize a Club, named in honor of the great chieftain, to advocate his nomination, and to labor zealously for his election should the party in the exercise of its wisdom and judgment choose him to lead the loyal legions to victory in the contest of 1868.

Pending the passage of the above resolution spirited addresses in eulogy of General Grant were made by Capt. Cook, Dr. Biddle Arthurs, Capt. J. M. Hunter, James Black, W. N. Ogden, T. H. Phelps, and others.

The election of permanent officers was then proceeded with, the meeting making choice of the following gentlemen to serve in the positions designated: President, Thomas Steel, Esq.; Vice Presidents, Capt. W. B. Cook, George Wilson, C. M. Gormley, William Woods, Dr. J. C. Mattern; Secretaries, Thos. H. Phelps, Thos. S. Bigelow, T. P. Houston; Treasurer, T. T. Ewing; Executive Committee, W. N. Ogden, T. W. Davis, Captain James Wick, Capt. J. M. Hunter, M. S. King, J. S. M. Young, James Black, W. M. Hersh, Crosby Gray, Dr. Biddle Arthurs, J. McDonald Crossan, Col. Wm. Phillips, Col. J. L. Slentz, M. W. Beltzhoover, Samuel Young, E. S. Kennedy, John Paul, J. D. Bailey, Thomas Bailey, Edward House, Alexander Aiken and W. C. Curry.

The following resolution was offered and adopted:

Resolved, That the Republicans of each election district in Allegheny county be requested to fall into the line under the banner of Grant, and organize clubs similar to our own; and we recommend that when such clubs have been formed in one-third of said districts, a County Grant Club, composed of the Presidents and one delegate from each of the various clubs, shall be organized.

A resolution instructing the Executive Committee to report a full plan of organization for the club at its next meeting, was passed.

Resolved, That we urge on the citizens of the Twenty-first Congressional District the nomination of Colonel William Phillips, of the Second ward, Pittsburgh, as successor to J. K. Moorhead in the National Assembly. We recognize in Colonel Phillips a true exponent of the principles of the Union Republican party, and know him to be a gentleman eminently qualified to represent in Congress our great manufacturing district and to participate in the affairs of our country.

The meeting then adjourned.

Mrs. Brawdy Again.

Mrs. Barbara Brawdy, the proprietress of an infamous den on Liberty street, which has frequently been "ventilated" through the city papers, still continues to prosper in her infamous business, it appears, notwithstanding the vigilance of the police, and the frequent expressed intention of the authorities to break it up. But a short time since she was before His Honor the Mayor, charged with keeping a bawdy house, and, we believe, was held to bail for her appearance at Court. This was all the Mayor could do in the matter. But some one else must be at fault, as we have not yet noticed in the Court proceedings any hint of her trial. The character of this woman, and the reputation of the house she keeps, have so frequently been published, that every body must be familiar with it, and it is therefore useless to speak of it here in a general manner; but as there is always more or less interest attached to particulars connected with such characters, we will relate an incident which is alleged to have taken place at the inquisitorial establishment kept by this "virago," Monday evening, from which our readers can form some idea of her manner of conducting business, while it will also serve to teach strangers the impropriety of taking lodgings at what are termed "female boarding houses," unless they know the reputation of the houses at which they stop.

Monday evening two men, Mr. McIntyre and Mr. Anderson, from New Brighton, arrived in the city, and at the Union Depot inquired for "cheap boarding house." The inquiry was heard by one of that class of men with whom our city is cursed to a considerable extent at present, who are too lazy to work, and too poor to live without it, and who frequently resort to any means of obtaining a living, without labor. It appears he was a "runner" for Mr. Brawdy's house, to which he conducted them. Shortly after their arrival they discovered the character of the place, and resolved to leave it, but upon signifying their intention to do so, the door was locked and a demand of five dollars each made upon them. They refused to comply with the demand, when the door of an adjoining room was opened and half a dozen "roughs," armed with knives and pistols, confronted them and enforced the payment of the money, when they were allowed to depart.

Mr. Anderson yesterday morning appeared before Alderman McMasters and stated the case, when a warrant was issued for Mrs. Brawdy on a charge of keeping a bawdy house, upon which she was arrested, and after a hearing held in five hundred dollars bail for her appearance at Court.

Anderson and McIntyre are both respectable, hard working men, and were led into the "trap," which is always open for the uninitiated, in the manner above stated. We rather think Mrs. B. will be brought before the Court this time, as the prosecutor has no desire to effect a compromise. His motives for prosecuting were not for the purpose of extorting money, or even receiving his own, but to bring the offender to justice.

Produce Commission House.

Farmers, dealers and others engaged in the transaction of business connected with the buying and selling of produce, wool, hops, tobacco, high wines, &c., generally experience much difficulty in obtaining corresponding houses in the metropolitan markets. We have had business knowledge of the old established house in New York of Messrs. H. P. Ballard & Co., No. 332 Washington street, which is strictly a produce commission firm, and one we take pleasure in recommending to our readers. The house has unequaled facilities for the disposal of all kinds of produce and make liberal advances to their patrons. Their business is managed in a careful and systematic manner, and the interests of consignors are carefully watched and guarded, and in every case, quick sales and returns are made. Consignments of eggs, pork, beef, flour, grain, beans, beeswax, dried and green fruits, seeds, and all kinds of country produce is respectfully solicited. We bespeak for Messrs. Ballard & Co. a full share of the consignments directed from this city to the New York market, and earnestly commend the members of the firm as honorable and fair dealing business gentlemen.

Painful Injury.

—Henry Evans, while engaged at work at the pipe works of Messrs. Evans, Dalzell & Co., corner of First and Market street, yesterday morning, had his hand seriously injured by being caught in the cog wheels attached to the "planer," crushing the bones and lacerating it severely. He was taken to the office of a physician, where his injuries were attended to, after which he was removed to his father's residence, in South Pittsburgh. He is a son of one of the members of the firm.

The Concert of the Choir of Trinity Church last night took place as announced. City Hall was very nearly filled with an appreciative audience, conspicuous among which was the Market House Mission School. Want of space deprives us of the pleasure of a more special notice, but we must mention the exquisite Hungarian Serenade, which was the gem of the programme, as little Master Frederick was the star among the performers, although there were several others almost equally noticeable.

THE CITY ELECTIONS.

Meeting of the City Executive Committee—The Delegate System Adopted.

The City Republican Executive Committee met last evening in the office of A. M. Brown, Esq., on Fifth street, for the purpose of making arrangements for the selection of candidates for the offices of Mayor, Controller, Treasurer and City Attorney, to be voted for at the election in December. The Committee was called to order by Mr. Thomas W. Davis, the Chairman, and the roll being called, twenty-nine members answered to their names.

On motion of Mr. House, it was resolved that the primary meetings be held in the various wards on Saturday afternoon, November 16th, between the hours of three and six o'clock, the Nominating Convention to meet in the Council Chambers on Monday, November 18th.

The question as to whether the Crawford county or delegate system should be adopted, was discussed at some length, the representatives from the new districts strongly favoring the latter plan. A vote being taken, resulted in the choice of the delegate system—twenty-three members recorded their votes in its favor.

Mr. Sims moved that two delegates be elected from each district, and that the election be by ballot. Adopted.

After some discussion it was decided that the primary meetings be held at the usual places of election, except in the case of the Third and Sixth wards. The Third ward voters will meet in the Court House, and both precincts of the Sixth ward at the School House.

The Republican Judges and Inspectors of the various wards were requested to conduct the election, and power granted them to fill vacancies.

The meeting then adjourned to meet at the call of the Chairman.

Amusements.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—Miss Caroline McCaffrey, assisted by a number of first class performers, will favor us with one of her excellent concerts at the Academy of Music to-night. Miss McCaffrey is the best contralto singer in the United States, and the lovers of good music should not fail to hear her. The sale of reserved seats at Mellor's will continue to-day, and persons desiring seats should call early, if they wish to be accommodated.

OPERA HOUSE.—The inimitable Chanfrau, who was so favorably received at the Opera House last week, as "Sam," has been re-engaged by Manager Canning for the present week. He appeared last night in the characters of Lord Dundreary and his brother Sam, to a large and fashionable audience, who were highly delighted with his manner of rendering the piece, and expressed their admiration by calling him in front of the curtain several times. The piece will be repeated to-night.

VARIETIES THEATRE.—The patrons of the Varieties are having a rich treat this week, in the way of local dramas, which are prepared and rendered in a very creditable manner. The usual assortment of fun is on the bills to-night. The versatility of the performances at this institution is one of its principal features, and the present managers have the energy and enterprise to carry the principle out.

DAN RICE.—Dan Rice's Circus, now exhibiting on the south side of the river, will pay us a visit on Thursday, and will remain until Saturday night, which will be the closing exhibition of the season. Dan is the acknowledged "Prince of Clowns," and always gives his patrons the worth of their money. Everybody should see his trained animals.

Vexations.

Numerous complaints come to us of the trains of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, on the Federal and Sandusky street crossings. It is complained, especially, that in two instances, yesterday, long trains stretching from the west side of Federal street beyond the east side of Sandusky street, one of them for six or eight minutes, the other for more than ten minutes, were detained at these crossings; that hundreds of citizens on foot and in carriages were detained on either side, with no alternative save to climb up which to get around the obstruction. Such annoyances should not be permitted to recur. Any necessity that might be urged would but go to prove that the track on which such necessity is plead should be wholly removed. Federal street is quite too crowded and busy a thoroughfare to tolerate the Railroad at all, if these annoyances are to be repeated. We feel sure, however, that the higher authorities of the Company neither know, or would approve of them, and we confidently look to them for a prompt remedy of the evil.

LEGISLATIVE CORRUPTION.

The announcement of the arrest of Mr. HUMPHREY, a member of the New York Senate, for corrupt practices, promises to lead to important general results. It is now stated that prosecutions will be instituted against other Senators and Representatives for taking bribes; that the movement has been commenced with a view of making thorough work, by bringing as many of the offenders as possible to punishment; and by this means ensuring a proper degree of honesty thenceforward in legislative affairs.

What stands mainly in the way of attaining the ends of justice is the existence of a law, craftily devised, which subjects the offerer or giver of a bribe to the same penalty as the acceptor thereof. That the moral delinquency of these two is equal, or so nearly so as to make discrimination practically useless, will hardly be conceded by any one who has taken pains to consider their relations to each other. A legislator is an official personage, and is under the solemn responsibilities of an oath, in addition to the common obligations which attach to all men alike, to perform his duties conscientiously, and solely with a view to the general welfare. When many such combine to make a detestable traffic in their prerogatives, they are altogether without excuse. Private persons seek corporate privileges, for the promotion of objects beyond the reach of individual enterprise. Doubtless they seek their own advantage; but, at the same time, what they intend would be beneficial to the community. They are met by members of legislative bodies with demands for pecuniary considerations in exchange for the franchises they solicit. They hesitate; but finding no other way, are constrained to yield. Now, this submission is not to be justified or even excused. It is radically wrong under every aspect. No man is at liberty to do an improper or criminal act, because others insist he shall, or else do nothing whatever in the premises. In such an emergency his self-respect, as well as his regard for moral right, should impel him to turn away, and confine his energies to channels not requiring legislative authorization. But, if he succumbs, and gives a largess for the needful franchises, he is far less guilty than the public functionaries who unlawfully exact and pocket it.

Besides, public policy requires that a broad distinction should be instituted and maintained between these classes of wrong doers. It is of the utmost necessity that corrupt legislators should be exposed and punished. Commonly the only way in which this end can be accomplished is to exempt from amenability to the law men who offer bribes, in order that they may be made witnesses against those who demand and take them. When persons intend to negotiate and consummate an illegal and infamous bargain, they do not call in as spectators disinterested individuals. They seek privacy; exclude all others; agree upon the terms; and give or accept the stipulated price under no eyes but their own. To make the offerer of a bribe a competent witness against the taker thereof, would manifestly tend to lessen the number of such transactions, and would afford redress for such as should occur.

The proceedings in these New York cases will be watched with peculiar interest throughout the country. If they shall be successfully prosecuted, it is not improbable that the example established there will be imitated elsewhere. But, however these cases may go, strong pressure ought to be brought to bear upon legislative bodies to secure such a modification of existing laws as to make all who offer corrupt inducements for legislation liable to be called as witnesses in proceedings, whether before investigating committees or the courts, against those who sell their votes as legislators. A radical reform must either be made in the course of legislation on a large class of questions, or the whole business of legislation; nay, popular government, will be brought into contempt.

RECONSTRUCTION.

Mr. WILLIAM LAWRENCE, of Ohio, is a distinguished member of Congress and has a place on the Judiciary Committee, charged to inquire whether the President has committed acts which ought to subject him to impeachment. Just at the close of the late session, after the House had most unwisely decided not to receive the Report of that Committee, Mr. LAWRENCE obtained permission to print a speech which there was no time to deliver. In that speech he presented a synopsis of the causes he discovered in the testimony taken before the Committee for putting the President upon trial before the Senate. The first specification in the catalogue was the unwarrantable powers exercised by the President over the Southern States, in appointing Provisional Governors to rule over them; in authorizing these Governors to levy and collect taxes; in convoking conventions to amend the various State Constitutions; in dictating what changes should be made therein; and, generally, in usurping all the functions of civil government over the people of those Commonwealths. No dispassionate man can read deliberately these specifications, or those which follow, without being impressed with the fact that so grave a detail of offences was never presented against an European monarch, arraigned before representative bodies, for exceeding the prerogatives granted him by the laws.

On the 16th instant Ex-Governor W. HOLDEN, of North Carolina, delivered an address at Raleigh, remarkable both for strength and eloquence. He said:

"But, who are really the confiscators? For two years, during the war, these acts hung over the heads of rebellious generals and secession landholders, spurring them on to desperation. Then the most distinguished champion of confiscation was Andrew Johnson, who is now the idol of these gentlemen. He was the originator of the most radical of all confiscation ideas and measures. When he appointed me provisional governor he gave me unlimited power to seize property, and confiscate it to the use of the State government. He, Andrew Johnson, did that, fellow-citizens. And he ordered the judges to enforce the confiscation laws of Congress. Yes, he said to me, in the presence of John P. H. Russ, of this city, and Robert P. Dick, of Guilford, that it was his purpose to cut up the lands of the South and divide them among the poor people of these States. He declared with emphasis that this should be the result of the twenty-thousand dollar clause in his proclamation; that HIS PURPOSE was fixed that the large landholders of the South, who had involved the people in rebellion on account of their slave property, should not live at their ease on their large landed possessions, while thousands of families of soldiers who had been beggared and orphaned by the wicked policy of these landholders were pinin in the ashes, without means to educate their children or means to live in any kind of comfort. If he is now the friend of those whom he intended utterly to destroy at one time it is none of my business, but I cannot believe that they are really his friends. But let that pass; I say that HE GAVE HIS GROVISIONAL GOVERNORS POWER to confiscate—he told them to do so. Did any of them do it? Who says they did? Where is the man that will charge it upon them?"

No intelligent man can doubt but this is a literal delineation of the instructions and spirit of the President. He cared as little then for law, or public policy, or individual right, as he does now. His passions were inflamed at that period against such of the Southern people as had been conspicuous in the rebellion, just as they are now against the Republican leaders; and he was resolved, come what might, with law or without law, to wreak his vengeance upon them. While he was indulging in those paroxysms of insane loyalty, threatening the South with pillage and decimation, not by virtue of the laws, but at the suggestion of his own imperious and reckless will, we felt constrained to protest, with all the energy we could command, against a policy that could have no other tendency than to plant fresh and irradicable cause of bitterness and alienation between the two sections of the Union.

With what show of decency the President, after inaugurating this system of terrorism which Mr. HOLDEN graphically describes, presumes to arraign or criticise the vastly milder conduct of Congress, we do not understand. He seems to be beset by an infatuation that prevents him from comprehending the attitude in which he really stands before the country, and the figure he is inevitably destined to make in history. Always violent to a degree closely verging upon insanity, he swings from one extreme to another apparently unconscious of change, infatuated with the idea that his fluctuating decisions and purposes unerringly reflect the absolute meaning and temper of the Constitution; and that it will be safe for him to the end of his official term to defy the co-ordinate departments of the government and pour immeasurable contempt on the men through whose wisdom, and valor, and sacrifices the Union was preserved.

EDITORIAL GLEANINGS.

MR. VALLANDIGHAM, in a speech to some Boys in Blue, denies ever having opposed them, personally or generally, during the war, or after it; and winds up by saying that if they will bring any man of note to him, who says that he did oppose them in any way or at any time, he will salute him with the pleasant quotation "Lord Angus, thou hast lied." We did think Mr. V. had done what he says he did not, but we suppose we must blame it all on the errors of the press.

THE English press is beginning to find out one other good thing in America, viz: our method of administering capital punishment in private. The mobs which attend the public executions in that country are disgusting and disgraceful, and the hardened bravado of the wretched criminals who are about to leap the gulf is something quite frightful. An English correspondent of the New York Times thus winds up his remarks on the subject: "The vice and profligacy, violence and crime, sin and shame of England gathered round the gallows. The great moral lesson certainly attracts those who need it most, but are they the better for it? Each hanging seems to diminish the dread of the gallows in the spectator."

A FRENCHMAN thinks it is all well enough for Americans, who have not Paris, to think of looking for comfort at home; but for the French, ah! that is another thing. We don't believe in crying down every French fashion, as some folks do, but we protest against the introduction of one that does not suit the American character, probably, as M. Crapaud says, because we have no Paris.

DR. JOHN MCHENRY, of Louisiana, has advanced a very plausible project for uniting the waters of the Missouri river with the Gulf of Mexico through an entirely new channel, commencing at Kansas City and to run to a branch of the Osage, which is to be connected by a canal with the Neosho river at the falls; thence it is to run two hundred and fifty miles to Fort Gibson, on the Arkansas, and down that river to Fort Smith; then to pass around the base of the San Boles mountain into a branch of the Red river, and thence down the Red and Sabine rivers to Sabine bay three hundred miles, and so on to the gulf.

AN accomplished and highly educated swindler has been exercising his peculiar talents on the aristocracy of the neighboring Dominion. He began on Gen. Doyle, Lieutenant Governor of New Brunswick, introducing himself as Col. Graham, Secretary to Maximilian, and formerly an officer in the General's own regiment. He succeeded in so ingratiating himself that the General cashed his draft for £180 on London, and introduced him to the Governor of Prince Edward's Island, from whom he received a similar favor. From these gentlemen he also received letters to the various officials throughout Canada, from all of whom he got money on drafts on London. These drafts have all come back protested, but Col. Graham is gone and can not be found. Probably General Doyle will have to suffer rather a heavy loss on account of his genial friend, and the whole story sounds very like one of Charles Lever's military novels.

THE Chicago Christian Union has been organized in opposition to the Young Men's Christian Association. It is composed of Universalists and Unitarians, and denounces the Young Men's Christian Association as sectarian and bigoted, taking the money of outside donations, but refusing them all share in their works. Rev. R. L. Collier, in his speech at the opening meeting, says that he "wants the people to quit their blowing about Trinity and Unity, and go to work."

A YOUNG man named Fritz Franke started across the plains with his mother about the end of September. Between Fort Harker and New Mexico the train was attacked by Indians, and Mr. Franke and several others were killed. Mrs. Franke was so terrified and shocked that she died in a few moments, literally heart broken. The Franke family resided in Dayton, Ohio, where they have relatives now living.

COMMODORE VANDERBILT has a son who is going through the bankrupt court. It would be well for the creditors if the Mosaic law would be reversed and the sins of the children visited upon the fathers. The Commodore, however, seems to be willing to spend more money for the "Mountain Boy" than for his own.

THE New York Gazette in speaking of the new Paris fashion of calf skin hats, with the hair outside, says that in New York the calves are inside. In this part of the country we are not quite so far advanced in the fashions; most people still wear their heads in their hats.

CHURCH and State will without doubt be shortly divorced in most of the States in Europe; at least things seem to be tending that way a good deal now. After so long a union, it is sad to think of a separation, although they have had but a stormy time of it while together.

THE number of persons burned to death since the weather became cold enough for fire, is frightful. They are occurring in almost every town in the North.

A SHELL from Vicksburg exploded in a foundry at St. Louis, recently, killing one man and severely wounding two others. The shell was one of a large lot which had been brought to St. Louis and sold as old iron.

A MAN, recently arrived from Michigan, went into a saloon, and while paying for his drink, his well-filled wallet was taken up by a bystander. The owner, however, reclaimed it, and for fear of being robbed, put it in his pocket and started for his hotel, but being followed by two of the crowd in the saloon he dropped into a dry goods store, which retreat he had shortly to leave, as shutting up time had come. He had scarcely left before he was knocked down and robbed of all his money. The robbers were arrested next day, but no money was returned.

THE Philadelphia Press goes into raptures over Mrs. D. P. Bowers as Lady Audley, "in which role she has no rival," after which it rather naively remarks "no one else ever attempts it."

—The tower of Babel is an edifice of which little is known by the ordinary world, but the London Bookseller, it seems, has discovered some one who knows a great deal about it, and, also, about the great deluge. That periodical contains the following announcement: "To be sold by private contract, the copyright of a work, in manuscript, entitled the 'Tower of Babel discovered, and the Deluge Explained.' The substance of which is contained in about three hundred and fifty foolscap quarto pages. The author and compiler asserts that he has made one of the most important discoveries of the present age, namely, that of demonstrating the identity of the Great Pyramid of Egypt with the ancient Biblical Tower of Babel; and proving by conclusive evidence, that the Mosaic Deluge was a local flood, produced by the bursting of an ancient African lake, the remains of which he points out, and also indicates in detail the cause of the great catastrophe."

—A burnt clay altar has been discovered near Nashville, Tenn., by some antiquarians, several feet under ground, at the summit of a mound. The altar is of circular form, and three feet in diameter. Several deer bones and some shell ornaments were found upon it. Among the latter was a large flat Gulf of Mexico shell, rounded off carefully, and carved on one side with cards and signs, approaching those of the zodiac; in the centre is the effigy of the sun, very much like those found in our almanacs, while one of the inner circles is divided accurately into three parts.

—Mr. James Parton writes to the Tribune that Mr. Macmillan, the London publisher, recently assured a company of American authors and publishers that if there had been an international copyright treaty in force between England and the United States during the last twenty years, Mr. Longfellow would have received under it £40,000, equivalent to more than $250,000 of our present currency. Mr. Parton adds: "He made this statement deliberately, and authorized me if ever I made it public, to support it with his name and authority."

MALARIA EVERYWHERE.
Bar ly has there been a season as fruitful as this of malarious diseases. Not only on the prairies and in the valleys of the west; not merely in all the old haunts of fever and ague and bilious remittent fever have these prostrating diseases been unusually virulent; but they have extended to towns and cities never before infested with them, and have even ascended the mountains and attacked thousands of people supposed to have been placed, by the laws of nature, above their reach. Hence we are compelled to admit that a fatal element pervades the universal air this season, and should at once resort to the only approved preventive of its consequences. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a tonic so potent, an antiseptic so perfect, as alterative so irresistible, and a stimulant so pure that it enables the system to resist and baffle all the predisposing causes of disease. With the confidence that one clothed in incontestible armour might move among blazing buildings, the man who arms himself against malaria with th a powerful defensive medicine may walk a fever-scourged district fearless of its insalubrious atmosphere. The intermittent and remittent at present so prevalent in all parts of the country may be but the forerunners of a deadlier scourge now on its way westward from the Atlantic cities. Prepare for it by using HOSTETTER'S BITTERS for a successful battle with the mephitic causes of all epidemics. Be wise in time!

BLIND EYES RESTORED.
The case to which we alluded some weeks ago, of Christiana Fisher, of Beaver county, is now entirely confirmed by the appearance of Miss Fisher herself, who to-day called on DR. KEYSER in person, to thank him for his genius and skill in restoring her TO ENTIRE AND PERFECT SIGHT. Miss Fisher had been nearly blind for four months. She was so blind that she could not distinguish any object so as to make out what it was. The case is remarkable, as hundreds of cases like hers are doomed to never-ending darkness, on the flimsy pretext that there is no cure, and nothing can be done. She was under DOCTOR KEYSER'S treatment for two months, and before she applied to him though her brother, Simon P. Fisher, slight hopes were entertained of her ever getting her sight. Her case is well known in the neighborhood where she resides, and has been regarded as one of extraordinary recovery.

THE COURTS.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Stowe.

Court met at the usual hour Tuesday morning.

CASE CONCLUDED.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. David Martin, Mary Martin and Robert Baldwin alias "Black Bob," indictment, keeping a disorderly house and fortune telling, on trial Monday afternoon, was proceeded with and concluded, the jury finding a verdict of not guilty upon the first count (disorderly house), but guilty upon the second count (telling fortunes.) Not sentenced.

ANOTHER DISORDERLY HOUSE CASE—MOTION TO QUASH.

Minerva Johnston was called to answer an indictment, the first count of which charged her with keeping a disorderly house, and the second with keeping a bawdy house, B. F. Lucas, Esq., of counsel for defense, moved to quash the second count for the following reasons:

First—The prosecution on which the indictment was framed was commenced by a private prosecutor, by information made before a committing magistrate, for keeping and maintaining a common disorderly house, to the common nuisance and disturbance of orderly citizens, but not for keeping a bawdy house and place for the practice of fornication.

Second—The second count of said indictment was framed and presented to the grand jury by the Assistant District Attorney without any previous information having been made for the offense charged therein.

Third—The defendant is prepared to go to trial for the offense charged in the information, but is not prepared to go to trial for the higher offense charged in the second count of the indictment and of which there had been no previous hearing.

Mr. Lucas said Judge Sterrett a few few terms since had quashed an indictment in a larceny case, where there was a distinct variance between it and the charge as made in the information.

Judge Stowe quashed the second count in the indictment, and the trial proceeded as to the first count, charging the defendant with keeping a disorderly house at No. 72 Gibbons-street, Eighth ward. The prosecutor was John Sloan, who testified that defendant had rented upstairs apartments from him; that she represented herself as a widow; that all went smoothly until two women came to live with her; that these women attracted men to the house at all hours and caused him annoyance; that he protested against defendant throwing slops out of a window, when she made use of ill language, and from that time forward there was trouble, mainly from a dog, which witness testified defendant induced to keep up a continual barking at him. The case terminated by a verdict of not guilty, defendant to pay the costs, to do which she was accordingly sentenced.

SENTENCED.

Zaccheus Scott, jr., and George Dawson, convicted of assault and battery, on complaint of Robert Douglass—all residing in Elizabeth township—were sentenced, the former to pay a fine of thirty dollars, and the latter a fine of five dollars.

AN ALDERMAN ON TRIAL.

Edward Lynch, Alderman in the Third ward, was placed on trial for larceny as bailee, Edward Munden, the prosecutor, alleging that he gave him a note for $19,59 to bring suit upon, which he failed to do, and also refused to return when demanded of him. On trial.

Common Pleas—Judge Mellon.

TUESDAY, Oct. 29.—Thomas Hall vs. Hiemelwright and Karnes, action to recover damages growing out of alleged breach of contract. It is alleged by plaintiff that he made a contract with the defendants for 50,000 railroad ties and after he had furnished 10,000 he received notice that he need not furnish any more. On trial.

11. Miller vs. Conrad.
12. Same vs. Same.

19. Cullymore vs. Bell.
22. Anderson vs. Smith & Co.

District Court—Judge Williams.

TUESDAY, Oct. 29.—The case of James Smith vs. the Pittsburgh, Columbus and Cincinnati Railroad Co., (already reported,) was proceeded with. It is an action to recover damages for the killing of plaintiff's son, aged eighteen years, by a collision of trains on defendants' road in June, 1866, near Walker's Mills. W. C. Moreland, Esq., for the defense, moved that judgment of non-suit be entered, on the ground that the plaintiff's son was in the employ of the company, and that his death being alleged to have been occasioned by the negligence of the employees or agents, an action would not lie, being caused by his co-laborers. At the conclusion of the argument the Court adjourned, Judge Williams stating that he would give his opinion Wednesday morning. Messrs. Bruce and Gazzam, and Mr. Leslie, of Ohio, appear for the plaintiff, and Mr. Moreland for the defendants.

12. D. Fawcett & Co. vs. J. K. Lanahan.
48. Thomas H. Gibson vs. Andrew Morton.
51. Head & Metzgar vs. adm'rs of A. S. Rhians.
55. John Bennett vs. John Rudge.

ERIE COUNTY PRISONERS RE-SENTENCED.

Comth ex relatione Charles White and William Doyle vs. Dr. H. Campbell, Warden of Western Penitentiary. Habeas Corpus.

Respondent made return as follows: "Western Penitentiary, Allegheny City, October 29, 1867.—To the Hon. Judges, &c.: In obedience to your command by writ of habeas corpus, directed to me on the 28th inst., I have the honor to produce the body of Charles White as well as that of William Doyle, placed in my custody on the 13th day of February, 1867, and sentenced by the Court of Quarter Sessions of Erie county, Pa., on the 7th of February, 1867, for a period of four years and six months for the crime of burglary."

The Court then made the following order:

Commonwealth vs. Chas. White and William Doyle; indicted and convicted for larceny in stealing seventeen U. S. Treasury notes, known and called as greenbacks, being each of the denomination of ten dollars, and other bills and notes set forth in the indictment. And now, to wit: Oct. 29th, 1867, the prisoners having been brought to the bar of the Supreme Court on habeas corpus issued to bring said prisoners from confinement in the penitentiary for the Western District of Pennsylvania, where they had been in confinement on a sentence of the Court of Quarter Sessions, holden for the county of Erie, at February sessions, A. D. 1867, which said sentences were, at this term of the Supreme Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania, reversed for error in the same, were severally sentenced for larceny, of which in said Court they were convicted as follows:

Charles White—the sentence of the Court is that you restore the property stolen if not already restored, or pay the value thereof, that you pay a fine of one dollar to the Commonwealth, together with the costs of prosecution, and undergo an imprisonment by solitary confinement at labor in the Penitentiary for the Western District of Pennsylvania for the period of one year and three calendar months, to be computed from the 7th day of February, 1867, and that you stand committed until this sentence be complied with.

The Pittsburgh Gazette

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

The Mayoralty.

EDITORS GAZETTE:—Having become consolidated with the city of Pittsburgh, much against our will, by the vote of the "Middle District," as good citizens we should come down to the work and take an interest in the progress and welfare of our new municipality, notwithstanding we were forcibly made a part of the same. Every effort should be made to start right under the new order of things. The greatest care should be taken in selecting persons to fill the offices, and more particularly that of Mayor—an office which should be elevated by its occupant—who should be a man of good character, dignified in his bearing, possessing business tact and and ability, and able by his walk and conversation to command the respect of all. Having upon several occasions observed the name of William A. Herron used in connection with the office of Mayor, allow me to join my efforts with those of others in pressing his claims. Mr. Herron was formerly a resident of our Township, and has always taken a most active part in advancing Republican interests, being foremost in every movement calculated to enhance the interests of the Union Republican party. In addition to this he is a man of integrity and business capacity, and has ever commanded the respect and esteem of all with whom he comes in contact. If he should be selected, he will bring to that office all the requirements to elevate it to the highest standard, commensurate with which our population, business interests, energy and manufacturing facilities demand that Pittsburgh should possess. If anything is to be gained by consolidation, an error now will prove fatal to a further extension of our city limits, while proper attention in elevating the character of our city government will hereafter secure all that could be desired. In expressing my preference as I have done, I do not wish to detract from the claims of many other worthy gentlemen, but in this particular express the universal preference in favor of Mr. Herron by his former friends and neighbors in Allegheny Temperance League.

The Allegheny City Temperance League met last evening pursuant to public announcement, in the Rev. J. B. Clark's United Presbyterian Church, corner of Stockton Avenue and Sandusky streets —President J. B. Clark in the Chair; G. Fredborn and W. G. Warren, Secretaries.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. A. C. Bell, after which the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Rev. H. McGaw being present, by invitation, was called upon, and addressed the meeting. He argued, with force and ability, the necessity of a prohibitory law in the State of Pennsylvania. The address was listened to by the large and intelligent audience present with eager attention, and a most hearty vote of thanks was passed, approving of the Rev. gentleman's address and thanking him for its delivery.

The Executive Committee reported through their Secretary the work of the late election which gave one thousand three hundred votes to Mr. McConnigle, the nominee of the League.

Rev. R. A. Browne, D. D., being present, was called upon by the President and addressed the meeting, in regard to the organization of the State Temperance Convention; its utility and bearing upon public opinion; appealing to the people present to sustain the Temperance cause in all its efforts to suppress the liquor traffic.

On motion adjourned. Benediction was pronounced by Rev. R. A. Brown, D. D.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 12th, in Dr. Pressley's United Presbyterian church, in the Diamond.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

John Nolan yesterday appeared before Alderman Taylor and made information against M. Steepleton, charging him with assault and battery. The parties reside in the Fifth ward. Steepleton was arrested and held for a hearing.

SURETY OF THE PEACE.

William Divine made information before Alderman McMasters, yesterday, against William Guthrine, for surety of the peace. He alleges that the defendant, who resides on Washington street, Pittsburgh, came to his residence on Beaver avenue, Allegheny, and threatened to whip him. The accused was arrested and held for a hearing.

IN TROUBLE AGAIN.

Fanny Splain, who was a few days since fined in the Quarter Sessions Court and convicted of keeping a bawdy house, is again in trouble. It appears that after leaving the court room she met Thomas Smith, the principal witness against her in the trial, and a fight was the result of their meeting. The parties appeared before Alderman Busler, and made information against each other for assault and battery. They will have a hearing today.

Weather Reports.

The following was the state of the weather yesterday at the points indicated:

Franklin, still raining.
Philadelphia, still raining.
Louisville, cloudy and cool.
Memphis, clear and cool.
Buffalo, raining.
Jamestown, N. Y., raining.
St. Louis, clear and cold.
Chicago, clear, cool and sun shining.
Indianapolis, clear and pleasant.
Cincinnati, cleared up.

Oil City, raining.

Hop at Wilkins Hall.

A pleasant time may be expected at Wilkins Hall to-night, at the social soiree of the Smoky City Base Ball Club. The names of the managers on the cards of invitation, one of which we have been favored with, is a sufficient guarantee of the success of the affair. The Washington Cornet Band will be present and furnish soul stirring strains of sweet music, to which the gay and festive throng may "trip the light fantastic toe" from "every eve till sunny morn." The arrangements have been of a very liberal character, and nothing will be omitted that could in any way add to the pleasure of the occasion.

The Rain.—The rain for which everybody has been praying for so long has come at last, and we are likely, from present indications, to have more than we desired. The sidewalks along Fifth and Wood streets are in a slimy condition, and the streets, having been recently torn up for the purpose of putting down the sewers, and not yet "reconstructed," are almost impassable. We saw, yesterday, no less than three carts at one time stuck in the mud on Fifth street between Smithfield and Wood.

—A circular has been issued by the Russian Minister of Finance prohibiting the trade in two-copek pieces. The facts connected with this circular are rather singular. In 1863 a large quantity of gold was missed from the mint in St. Petersburg, and no trace of it could be found. Now, however, it appears that a workman had stolen the gold, and suspicion having fallen on him he was not able to dispose of it. He, therefore, in order to rid himself of the corpus delicti, threw it into a smelting caldron filled with copper for the making of two-copek pieces. Some sharp speculators having found out this fact, instantly set about buying up the whole 1863 two-pek coinage at twice and thrice its ordinary value. This remunerative trade is now to be stopped, and the golden coppers are to go back to the government.

—We clip from the Detroit Tribune the following: Yesterday Mathias Shaffer, who lives on Twelfth street, inflicted some severe injuries upon his wife, from the effects of which she will not recover for a long time. It appear that a dance was going on at Shaffer's house, and that Shafer requested his wife to become his partner, but she refused. Subsequently, and after angry words had passed between the parties, Mrs. Shafer went behind the bar to draw some beer, and while in a stooping position Shafer struck her on the back of the head with a wine bottle, cutting her terribly and knocking her senseless upon the floor. Policeman Pigney, being called in, arrested Shafer, and preferred a charge against him of assault with intent to kill. Mrs. Shafer is said to be in a precarious condition.

—The Weston Mo. Times notices the following: At Perry's Mill last night, the engineer, trying his steam, discovered fire protruding from the boilers at each trial. Becoming somewhat alarmed, he looked carefully to every part of his machinery, and discovering everything to be right, was at a loss to account for the strange freak. After consulting with others on the occurrence, they came to the only conclusion it was possible to arrive at in the absence of scientific demonstration—that it was electricity, but all were at a loss to trace it to a conclusive cause. The fire resembled lightning, a blue flame, and darting forth at each trial of the steam like the forked tongue of an adder.

—The famous wines of the Duke of Nassau, seized by the Prussians on the ducal domain last year at Rudesheimer, and afterwards deposited at Cobientz by order of the Prussian Ministry, will be sold at Wiesbaden, while the wine sequestered at Strasburg is to remain in possession of the Duke. The wine to be sold is of the most renowned growths of the Rhine, and its value is estimated at more than 600,000 florins.

—At St. Bartholomew's Hospital dinner, which recently took place in London, Mr. Paget, who had just returned from constant attendance on the Princess of Wales, stated that the health of Her Royal Highness was superlatively satisfactory, and that she would return to England fully capable of participating in all the duties and pleasures of her station.

GEORGIA ELECTION.

Passed Quietly—The Whites do not Participate.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

MACON, Ga., Oct. 29.—The election today passed off very quietly, no whites voting. Four hundred and sixty-eight votes were polled in the city and one hundred and thirty-seven in the county. The precincts heard from indicate no action on the part of the whites.

COLUMBUS, Ga., October 29.—The election was quiet and little interest manifested. Six hundred and fifty-eight votes were polled, four hundred for the convention and two hundred and fifty-eight for the call. Only a few white Radicals voting. The number of registered votes for the county and city is about three thousand. The Conservatives take no part in the election. The chances for the success of the Convention are favorable.

SAVANNAH, October 29.—The election to-day passed off quietly. Many negroes from the county, and some from South Carolina, voted. The city vote is 602, and that of the county 440. About 250 votes were registered, all of which, except three, were negroes. All the votes were for the Convention and the Radical ticket. Only one white vote was cast out of one hundred and seventy-four city voters and eighty county voters. Many of the names given by the negroes could not be found in the registry books. The Boston Mulatto Bradley ticket is ahead. Not a single arrest was made. The co-operation of the civil and military authorities was of the kindliest nature.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Oct. 29.—Returns from all the counties indicate that the Conservatives took no part in the election which, passed off quietly. Nearly all the votes cast were for Convention. 1,786 votes were polled here, 1,073 in the city, and 712 in the county for Convention.

The following returns are received from the interior:

Rowe—700, nearly all for Convention; scarcely any whites voted.

Marietta—305, mostly freedmen; nearly all for Convention.

Lagrange—About 500 negroes and 1 white voted; all for the Convention except one or two polled.

Griffin—675 votes polled, 550 for the Convention; about 175 whites voted.

Fort Gaines, Clay county—300 votes, all for the Convention. No white man offered to vote.

Americus—500 to 700 votes cast; all colored.

Albany—409 votes; all for the Convention. There were few whites at the polls.

ATLANTA, October 29.—Vote of Atlanta and Fulton county—For Convention, 703; against 800; less than one-fifth of the registered voters voted.

QUEBEC, CANADA.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

QUEBEC, October 29.—The ship yards are still closed. The Union men threaten vengeance on all who work for lower wages than they had established. The prisoners arrested yesterday had been released on bail. There is great excitement here, and it was feared this morning the mob would carry their threat to rescue the prisoners into execution. The military were called out to prevent a riot.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, October 29, 1867.

Gold was firm and unchanged at 142, scarcely fluctuating ⅛ per cent. In the absence of any further information regarding the situation in and about Rome, and the measures which France will take to uphold the temporal power of the Pope, parties withhold from buying, except the few bold leaders who take the risk of either losing probably one or two per cent, or gaining five or six, which would no doubt be the case should France interfere with the occupation of the papal dominions. Bonds are weak and dull at a decline of from ¼@⅜ per cent; 1881s, 7-30s and consols are proportionately lower than the rest.

Stocks are lower, except New York Central Erie, Northwestern common, and Merchants' Union Express. Mining shares are dull and lower. The local money market, in view of early improvement of business, is getting easier, but stocks and bonds, outside of the Government issues, are difficult of sale.

Gold, 142; 1881's, 111¾; 5-20s, 1862, 112¾; 1864, 108¾; 1865, 109¾; Consols, 109¾; 10-40s, 103.

—We extract the following particulars in regard to the latest swindle in Chicago, from the Republican, of Monday:

Another crime, startling in its nature because of its magnitude, has just come to light. D. D. Mallory, publisher of the Daily Journal of Review and Commercial Letter, and one of the most persistent "bulls" in a small way that ever operated on 'Change, turned up missing Saturday morning, and simultaneously the Manufacturers' National Bank ascertained that it had been forged swindled by him to the extent of $10,000. The bank was not the only victim of the members of the Board of Trade, and an inspection revealed the fact that the Commercial Insurance Company was the losers to the extent of about $2,500, besides $4,000 insurance debited to him, and which will also be lost. The Board of Trade, it is said, will be also swindled out of $10,000, and rumor has it that the Michigan Central Railroad has also been stolen to as extent as well as Philips & Bro., who are losers of $4,000. Michaels' plan of operation was to forge duplicates of his warehouse receipts, and by pledging them to brokers and the forgeries, raise money to carry on his operations in pork, lard, and provisions, and cover up his tracks, which are now universally coming upon him at every turn. It is now impossible to ascertain the amount of his trade, for as usual with the business community is interested in a gigantic swindle, the losers are reticent concerning their losses, for fear their business will affect their credit. Besides, in this case there are no margin purchasers who are victims, that at this early hour it is impossible to ascertain them. All, so far as known, the above embrace them all.

Where he has gone no one can conjecture, though it is evident to all that he has fled the scenes of his crime. What steps have been taken to arrest him, if any, have not yet transpired. Mr. Hulbert, who is one of the heaviest losers, is out of town, and up to Saturday evening did not know of his loss. It is true that it will nearly ruin him, as the money he loosed to Michaels was the bulk of all he possessed. Those who pretend to know, say that not one half of his forgeries have yet come to light, and when they do the total will be found to amount to $50,000.

—A telegram from Toronto says "A run commenced on the Royal Canadian Bank this morning, and continued with great activity until 4 o'clock, when the run ceased. The bank promptly responded to, the excitement gradually subsided. In order to satisfy the public as to its ability the bank has decided to be kept open a considerable time after the usual hour for closing. All the other banks paid out $22,000 over the counter."

—The failure of Mr. Robert E. Taylor, at New York last week, includes liabilities to the amount of about a million and a half of dollars, and was caused by liabilities on the indorsement for H. W. Hubbell, who failed a little before. Mr. T., it is said, will require only time to meet his engagements.

—The comparative break down in the dry goods market at New York, at the beginning of last week has invited to a little more activity in the trade there. But what must be esteemed an unfavorable feature of this renewed business is that the merchants find it necessary to extend more credit to their customers, while the large contraction of the legal tender circulation requires a more extended use of bank credits. It would seem, therefore, that either the banks must discount more and employ less of their means in call, or the merchants must suffer embarrassment. The present general prostration of business is very largely due to the impoverishment of planters, who yield to the necessities of the occasion, and to invite trade by a reduction of prices, rather than by an extension of credit.—Phila. Ledger.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

CRUDE—The market was again dull and weak to-day, not a single sale reported, and as the indications for a rise continue favorable, there are but few buyers, and they are all confident of lower prices in case of a resumption of navigation and heavy arrivals. We are cognizant of offers to sell to be delivered on first water at 11c, and offers to buy at 10½c, spot oil is held at from 13 to 13½c, according to the location of tank. We are assured, however, that there was a sale of considerable magnitude last evening of spot oil at 12c, which is considerably below the views of holders, as yet, and can hardly be taken as a fair index of the market.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil was a little more active to-day, but prices have still further declined, and sales could not have been effected unless concessions had been made. We can report a sale of 1000 bbls for October at 22½c; 500 for November at 21c, and 1000 for same delivery, at 23½c. Everything connected with the oil business is at a deadlock waiting for the results of the present rains, and it is not probable that there will be anything done of any magnitude until it is first ascertained whether there is to be an early resumption of navigation or not. In case of a rise, lower prices are expected; while, on the other hand, if there is not an advance is most inevitable.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

There is no improvement to note in the tone of the general markets; nor, indeed, can such an event be reasonably expected under existing circumstances. The demand for nearly everything is restricted mainly to supplying immediate wants, and as a general thing, prices are without quotable change.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet but firm and unchanged; sale of 3 cars prime Penna. Red at $2.60. Oats dull with a supply in excess of the demand, but unchanged; we continue to quote at 65@66c on track, and 68@70c in store. Corn is very dull; may be quoted at $1.20@1.22 for mixed, and $1.25@1.26 for prime Yellow. New Ear is quoted at $1. Rye is quiet and unchanged at $1.45@1.50. Barley is dull and weak but, as yet, unchanged.

FLOUR—There is no improvement to note in the demand, and while the market is quiet and a little weak, stocks are light and prices are unchanged. We continue to quote at $10.50 @11 for Spring Wheat, $12.50@13 for Winter Wheat; and $14@15.50 for fancy brands. Rye Flour, $8.50@9.
